School Transformation

Lilac Sky Schools

Trevor Averre-Beeson and his team have turned around 3 London Schools in the last 10 years. Their successes include the high-profile transformation of Islington Green School, in North London. The once struggling inner-city school became a symbol of educational failure in the 1990's, hitting the headlines when Tony Blair rejected it for his children. Under Averre-Beeson's leadership, the school passed its inspection in the space of 9 months.

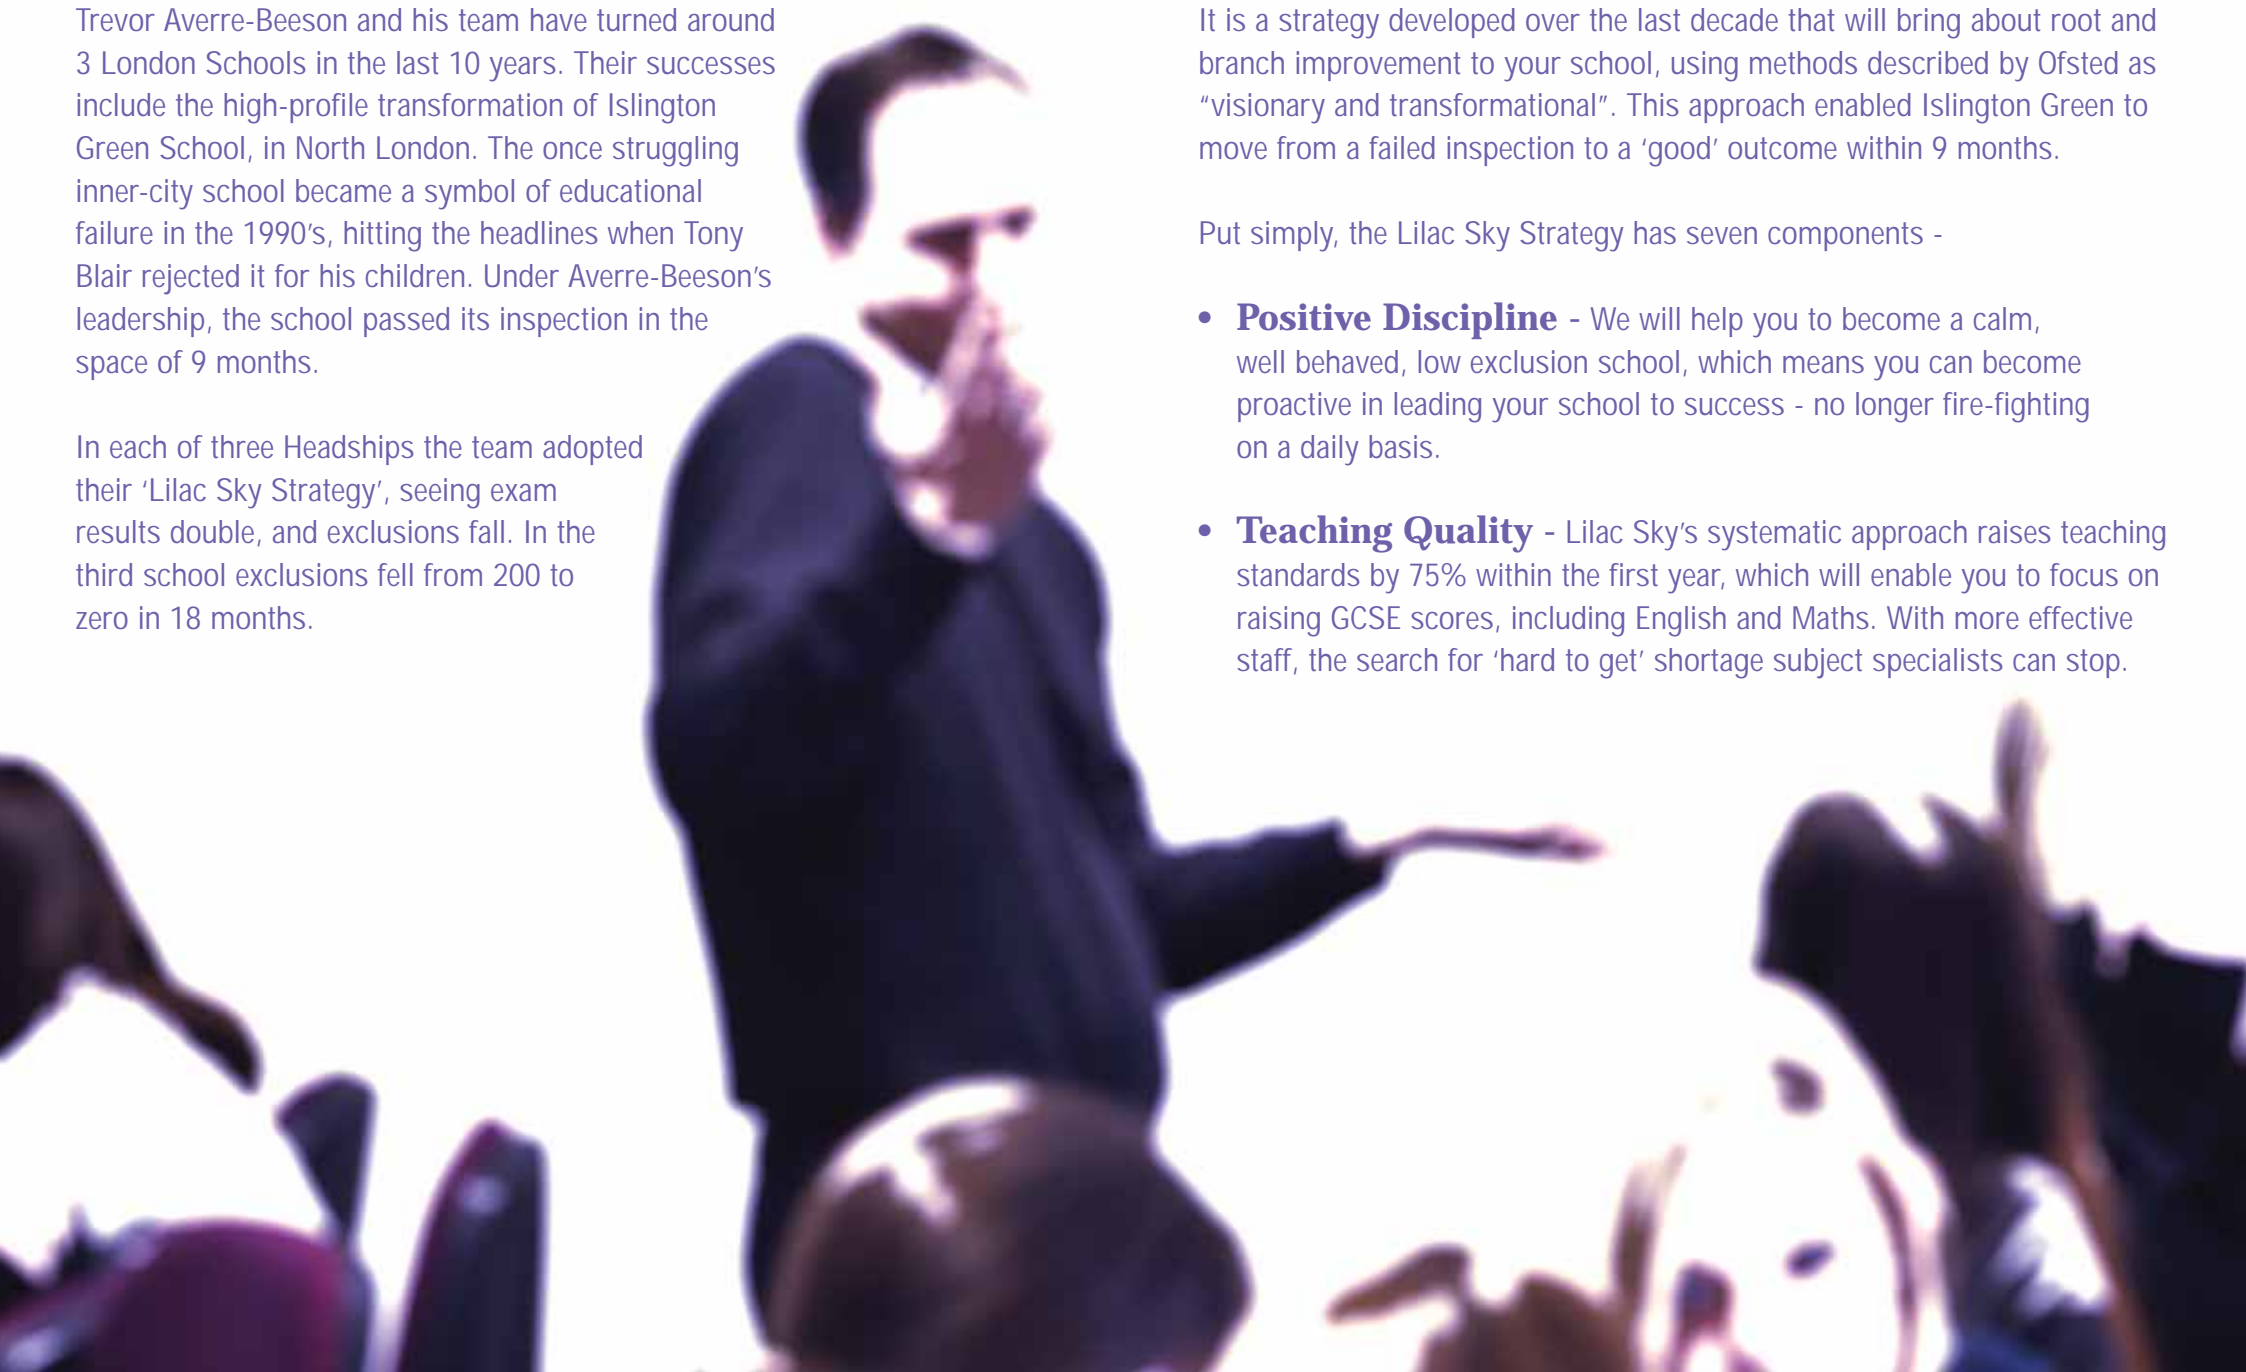

In each of three Headships the team adopted their 'Lilac Sky Strategy', seeing exam results double, and exclusions fall. In the third school exclusions fell from 200 to zero in 18 months.

What is Lilac Sky?

It is a strategy developed over the last decade that will bring about root and branch improvement to your school, using methods described by Ofsted as "visionary and transformational". This approach enabled Islington Green to move from a failed inspection to a 'good' outcome within 9 months.

Put simply, the Lilac Sky Strategy has seven components -

- Positive Discipline - We will help you to become a calm, well behaved, low exclusion school, which means you can become proactive in leading your school to success - no longer fire-fighting on a daily basis.
- Teaching Quality - Lilac Sky's systematic approach raises teaching standards by 75% within the first year, which will enable you to focus on raising GCSE scores, including English and Maths. With more effective staff, the search for 'hard to get' shortage subject specialists can stop.

- Assessment - Our complete ICT-based approach to assessment plus administrative package, provides comprehensive support for your teachers, students and parents, thereby allowing you to lead your school more effectively.
- The School Environment - Lilac Sky's Design team will take care of your classrooms and corridors, helping you to radically improve your school's ethos and learning environment, take more care over your carbon footprint and have a more relaxed school.
- Pastoral Support - Our approach will deliver zero exclusions using a totally inclusive approach and allowing you to be proactive in dealing with student and family issues before they reach crisis point. Parents who could have been your enemies become powerful allies.

- School Organisational Capacity - We will help remove the struggle of the day to day organisation of every aspect of school business. Assisting with finances, premises management, audit systems and administrative processes, thus enabling you - and your team to focus on student progress - the job they trained for!
- Communications and Public Relations - Lilac Sky's Design and Communications team will ensure that you build a good self image and positive profile with the public, that reflects your school's growing reputation. Year 7 will become over-subscribed when the community discovers what a great school you have and recruitment stops being a major issue.
